

SUZOHAPP to Launch New Components Website at G2E

Mt. Prospect, Illinois, October 15, 2019 – SUZOHAPP is pleased to announce the launch of its new website dedicated solely to its Components business at this year’s Global Gaming Expo (G2E) on October 15. Through this new site, Gaming OEMs will gain immediate access to comprehensive product information for the most complete range of components on the market today which includes monitors, locks, printers, scanners, bill and coin handling, cabinet parts, cashless systems, and more.

Information rich, easily searchable and well organized, this new site is designed to connect Gaming OEMs to the resources they need quickly. “Everything from product descriptions and specifications to brochures and diagrams will be housed on the site,” said Mike Sigona, SUZOHAPP’s Business Development and Global Gaming Product Manager. “Users can easily connect to support and sales staff, as well as stay aware of product updates, tradeshow announcements and relevant news feeds.”

“We are excited about our new website launch and are confident our Gaming customers will appreciate its intuitive design and breadth of content,” added Sim Bielak, SUZOHAPP’s President of Global Gaming & Amusement. “Easy access to detailed product information is yet another way we help our customers simplify their sourcing.”
