

Improving cash management in store

SUZHAPP presented next-generation solutions for advanced cash management at the Retail Retreat & Expo, which took place at Citywest in Dublin on 15 and 16 May

Ireland's largest retail show featured a strong line-up of leading industry speakers, and it was an excellent networking opportunity for attendees. SUZHAPP presented its next-generation solutions to improve retailers' management of cash in store. Cash is still one of the most common payment methods, which means that retailers have to find a way to handle it efficiently. Relying on the manual processing of cash can be difficult and cost-intensive. New cash-handling technology from SUZHAPP offers an immediate solution to improve cash flow, thus reducing handling costs, increasing speed and accuracy, and delivering a rapid and significant return on investment.

At this year's Retail Retreat & Expo, SUZHAPP showcased the highlights from its CashComplete™ product range, which is the ideal solution for retailers who want to transform cash-handling into a completely automated process. SUZHAPP experts will help customers choose their ideal combination of CashComplete™ units, always connected to CashComplete™ Connect, a cloud-based platform that allows retailers to fully monitor cash and generate accurate reporting for complete visibility of the cash cycle. Thanks to CashComplete™ Connect, you will always know the exact amount of cash in every machine in every location across your enterprise per denomination, per machine, per location. The combination of this software intelligence and advanced processing technologies will deliver better customer service and lead to a boost in profits.

At the Retail Retreat & Expo, SUZHAPP also presented the new CashComplete™ SDS-35, a smart deposit solution that improves accuracy, cash visibility and shrinkage protection. The SDS-35 allows retailers to instantly secure their cash at the point of sale, prevent acceptance of counterfeit notes, and reduce time spent counting cash. The new CashComplete™ RCS-400 2.2 was another highlight at the Expo. This is a recycling cash solution that enables retailers to completely automate their cash office. It streamlines cash-handling with automated till float creation, coin recycling, change facilities, and end-of-shift deposit and reconciliation. Repeated and time-consuming manual cash-counting is eliminated, and the risk of mistakes and shrinkage are reduced to a minimum. "Retailers spend a significant amount of time dealing with cash-handling challenges," says Tom Weafer, commercial manager at Scan Coin Ireland. "Our solutions allow retailers to focus more on their business instead of cash management. We have the expertise and range of bespoke solutions to help retailers to take their cash management operation to the next level and maximise their return on investment." ■
